Literature and History Teacher Job Description and Responsibilities

This document provides a general description of the primary responsibilities and performance expectations for a History and Literature Teacher at Annapolis Christian Academy. It is not intended to be an exhaustive list of all duties. All employees are expected to comply with applicable school policies, guidelines, and the spirit of the school's mission.

Courses

- 7th Grade - Early Modern American History / Literature
- 8th Grade - Modern American History / Literature
- 9th Grade - Ancient & Early Christianity Literature (only)

Role Overview

The School of Logic and Rhetoric (SoLaR) Teacher (teachers grades 7-12th) plays a significant role in the formation of a child. Through education, teachers in our SoLaR School work to foster in each student a desire to know Christ, to seek biblical virtue, and to become lifelong learners. As leaders for their students, and as influential members of the ACA culture and community, SoLaR School Teachers should model strong Christian ethics, be lifelong learners themselves, and commit to learning and upholding the principles of Classical Christian Education.

Qualifications

- Bachelor's degree preferred; equivalent experience and demonstrated gifting considered.
- Be a spiritually mature Christian who is a student of the Word of God and seeks to display Christian virtue in every part of life.
- Affirm the Bible as the only inerrant, authoritative Word of God and uphold the beliefs set forth in the school's Statement of Faith.
- Be in good standing with a local church, attending regularly and committing to the Christian disciplines of frequent Bible study, prayer, and fellowship with believers.
- Commit to resolving conflict according to the Matthew 18 principle, maintaining a spirit of peace within the staff, and not tolerating attitudes of divisiveness within the community.
- Demonstrate ability and a genuine passion for teaching students
- Commit to learning the Classical Christian method of education, including attendance at bi-weekly training in classical teaching, as well as monthly professional development sessions.
- Uphold the mission, philosophy, and culture of Annapolis Christian Academy.
- Exhibit strong written and oral communication skills.
